Changing this race to a Sunday was certainly a good move. Previous Mytholmroyd races have attracted only 40 runners while on a midweek fixture. Thankyou and well done everyone for helping us to make it a success again.

Karl Gray of Calder Valley smashed the previous record time, set by Bingley's Robin Lawrence in 2003 by well over a minute, and dragged the next two men, Chris Smale of Todmorden and Bradford's World veteran's Silver medallist Steve Oldfield inside also.

Sheffield's Lynne Bland dominated the women's section to win relatively comfortably, with local lady Naomi Sharratt second.

Thanks to members of Halifax Harriers who flagged the course, marshalled and swept the field, and to SMK Sports and Screentone Screen Printing for assisting with the prizes.

Thanks for coming and, if you enjoyed it, please tell your friends before next year's race.
