

Rain, rain and more rain! Only mad dogs and Bunny Runners would go out racing in these conditions. But turn out you did, a surprising, but fantastic 60 teams toed the start line with their unique egg relay batons in hand having not a care about the incessant rain and gale force winds which ripped across Penistone Hill. Because of this weather the organisers decided to dispense with the short lap on leg one, which meant no Egg Stage, so all the legs were over the long lap only, which was well received by all taking part. In fact due to the heartening feedback from you the runners, in future all Bunny relay legs will be run over the long lap only, which is roughly one and a half miles and 200ft. The very wet and slippery conditions made for some interesting change overs with generally not much yolk being spilled. What a great effort the two fancy dress teams Sunny Furry Scaries and Tod Bunnies put in, one to get their outfits and two to compete in the atrocious conditions, well done, thanks for taking part in this new prize category. A relay is all about team work, and the Bunny relay emphasises this more than any other, because families, juniors, friends and total strangers get together to transport a little unassuming funny coloured chucky egg safely up and down, round and round the contours of one of the highest bleakest points that Haworth has to offer. The warmth of the Old Sun Hotel was a welcome haven after everybody's exploits with it's free minestrone soup and roll, the race video playing and the banter that only fell runners can generate, especially if the conditions have been very arduous, the tales that get told are as good as 'the one that got away'. As always at the prize giving there's a quirky element thrown in, this week it was flashing teeth for all category team winners, with the customary stash of Easter Eggs, although beer was also added to Rossendale Dwarves – overall winners, 3 People – first ladies, Plucky Pearce Pacers - first family and Sunny Furry Scaries - first fancy dress. A big, big THANK YOU must be said for all our marshalls and recorders who gave up their evening to make this event go ahead, especially in such appalling conditions, they stayed true to the cause, without these heroes it just wouldn't happen. A special mention must go to Michael Fryer who got saturated twice, once helping flag the course, and then afterwards collecting the flags back in, in between all this he even had time to marshal. Weather like this always brings added problems so apologies to second Solo runner, Ged Walsh, who doesn't have leg times, but in the melee of the change overs he was missed on leg one, hence no times could be worked out. The weather certainly tested Up & Running's numbers to the max, and the new colour washed leg numbers made life much easier for the recording team, and helped the runners know exactly which leg they were on, yellow first, white second and pink third. Throughout the series Up & Running have supplied all the Bunny Run Series numbers which has aided the race immensely, a thank you must go to them.
